

Facilitation Skills for Participatory Processes

Objectives

The objective of this course is to help sharpen the facilitation techniques of people who use participatory methods for their projects, and who work with groups. This course will deepen their understanding of group processes, and provides a space for facilitators to learn from each other by sharing knowledge and experiences.

Methodology

The training course will be run in a workshop style with a high degree of participant involvement using adult learning methods. Group work and role plays will be interspersed with input sessions combining theory and practice. The trainers are expert facilitators, and will also demonstrate the skills that they share. The course is also designed to include a range of different methods that can be used to facilitate group processes.

Outcomes

- Increased confidence to facilitate groups
- Improved knowledge of how to work with groups
- Sharpened facilitation skills and techniques
- Understanding of how to create a climate of mutual trust and respect amongst group members
- Knowledge of how to get the most creative and meaningful results from group work sessions
- Improved communication skills
